What is the World Federation of Occupational Therapists (WFOT)?

The World Federation of Occupational Therapists (WFOT) is the international organisation representing over 580,000 occupational therapists worldwide. With over 100,000 occupational therapy students and 50,000 occupational therapy assistants, the number of people involved in the profession is in excess of a half a million.

WFOT is truly unique in that it is the only organisation that represents 101 professional occupational therapy organisations worldwide.

History

Founded in 1952, WFOT is a Non-Government Organisation (NGO), which has been in official relations with the World Health Organisation (WHO) since 1959 and recognised by the United Nations (UN) since 1963.

Career

Occupational therapy was ranked as the 4th best job in 2019¹ – a worthy accolade (though we would rank it 1st!). A well established and continually growing profession, occupational therapy is recognised as one of the important health and social care professions throughout the world.

The World Federation of Occupational Therapists is the organisation that unites occupational therapy worldwide.

Why advertise with us?

As the only international organisation representing occupational therapy worldwide, WFOT offers a plethora of products and services to serve a global community. Our website www wfot org continues to be one of our main communication portals.

The website attracts visitors from all over the world including professional occupational therapy associations, occupational therapists, students, assistants, other health care professions, governments, policymakers and the general public.

In 2018 our website generated 750,000 page views from 192 different countries.

As an international organisation, our membership comprises of occupational therapists who speak a range of languages. We offer translated documents and online services that enable people to access our publications from wherever they are based.

WFOT’s Facebook Page www.facebook.com/thewfot has over 28,000 people supporting our work and our Twitter account https://twitter.com/thewfot has 14,000 followers and continuing to grow on daily basis.

We believe that advertising with WFOT not only provides access to the international occupational therapy community, our advertising and sponsorship prices offer unbelievable value for money.
WFOT WEBSITE – Banner Advertisements

High profile banner advertisements are constantly visible on the website and available on all pages. With the option of a wide banner on the homepage or a side banner on all other pages of the WFOT website, your advertisement will be seen by people visiting the website every day. Banner advertisements appear on a rotational basis managed by an online website application.
About

Why we’re here:
Making lives fit for living.
To enable engaged, meaningful, lives, for everyone by encouraging occupational therapy excellence.

What makes us different?
WFOT is the global voice for occupational therapy and sets the standard for its practice. What do we do and how do we do it?
We are a global network of ninety five member organisations, representing 480,000 occupational therapists.
We set the standard for occupational therapy practice internationally and promote excellence through research and education.
Our annual occupational therapy day raises awareness for the profession and provides a platform to celebrate and exchange the diversity of our members.
As a worldwide body we represent the profession in its role of improving world health and wellbeing.

Who are we here for?
A global community of occupational therapists seeking to improve their practice, its recognition on an international level and its understanding in the wider world health context. We are their platform for debate and knowledge and their support for research and credentials.
